I believe the open-nature of the course allows people at different knowledge, education, and learning levels to all get something out of the class.

2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

Unpopular opinion - I wish there was a textbook. Some people just learn better by reading, and then when they do have questions on a topic, the teacher is then available. otherwise, very happy with the course

3. Your opinion of the overall effectiveness of this course. What suggestions, if any, do you have for helping the instructor to improve the teaching methods and assignments in this course?

Other than having a textbook follow the course, I believe the in-class assignments could be a little shorter, to get through more topics in class

Coming out of HS, and being interested but not knowledgeable in the topic, the course does a great job of introducing Data Analytics and introducing the necessary tools & knowledge for the student to be successful if they are interested in it.

- 2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

I wish there were more Big Picture, Real world applications or at every step of the way. Maybe Eric did do this & I am forgetting, but ~~that~~ in fact I really appreciated him breaking down Data Analytics into CS, Domain & Start. That helped me breakdown this new subject into manageable parts.

I like the hands on activities, I feel as if they serve to drive home the point of the lecture. I also appreciate that students participate in ~~generating~~ generating data to analyze. I feel that it's more ~~or~~ engaging when students are involved in creating the material. I like that Eric explains a lot of basic/foundational concepts. It may be repetitive to some people, but it's a nice refresher for us who 'have been out' of school for a few years.

2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

The first class covered a lot of topics and had a lot of activities, and was a bit overwhelming. It made me question if I was prepared for the course. I have since found that to not be true, but I was anxious after the first class.

Sometimes we run out of time to reflect on activities.

I am a huge fan of the variety of activities Eric uses in the course. After working all day it's really great to think in different ways on different tasks.

I also really enjoy the emphasis on real world applicability and use outside of the academic sphere.

I think Eric's strengths are his creativity and passion and it shows every time we meet for class. I'm very grateful for that.

2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

I do not think this is a fault at all but sometimes there is, for circumstances beyond anyone's control, some lack of preparation.

I would also enjoy some small assignments to work on outside of class however as a working person I'm also relieved not to be drowned in course work.

3. Your opinion of the overall effectiveness of this course. What suggestions, if any, do you have for helping the instructor to improve the teaching methods and assignments in this course?

I think as an intro course this class is effective in communicating big ideas and touching on a broad variety of topics.

I will definitely be enrolling in DAT-201 as this class has made something I've historically felt was byzantine and dry and made it into something tangible and interesting.

A strength of this course is the dynamic activities that work to make each exercise real + tangible to help students grasp it. Instructor is clearly passionate about the material + has thought about how to convey that passion.

2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

Sometimes too many long in-class activities mean that there is little time to dive into core concepts. With only 1 class week, using 60%+ of it on one exercise limits the scope of learning.

3. Your opinion of the overall effectiveness of this course. What suggestions, if any, do you have for helping the instructor to improve the teaching methods and assignments in this course?

- 1) Please spend less time explaining the subtleties of the grading flowchart, grading rationale, etc. Class time is limited and it just does not matter. The system is the system.
- 2) Please be clearer about the structure of the course of study. We are learning various assorted concepts but it does not feel like they are all coming together to enable a thorough understanding of stats + data analysis.
- 3) Email policy is unnecessarily + randomly restrictive.
- 4) While I know that no assignment grading is in place, please find an alternate way

1. Your perceptions of the strengths of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments helped you to learn the content or the skills required in this course?

When we walk through a topic in class & code together is best. Otherwise trying to figure out what is required is difficult.

2. Your perceptions of the weaknesses of this course. What particular teaching methods or assignments were not helpful to you in learning? Why not?

There is very little review of what we should be able to accomplish. Since nothing is graded or reviewed by the instructor I have no way of knowing if I'm meeting the learning objectives of the class.

3. Your opinion of the overall effectiveness of this course. What suggestions, if any, do you have for helping the instructor to improve the teaching methods and assignments in this course?

- Use the textbook - we were told to purchase a book but thru 7 weeks haven't used it.
- Review a program in class & then assign something similar for homework - be clear on what the program should do.
- Review weekly assignments & provide feedback
